Item	House Bill #	Department	Recommendation	Sponsor	Bill Summary	Staff Analysis
1)	SB 405	SO and CAO	Support	Senate Interim Comm on Judiciary	SO: Allows for the creation of police departments at Oregon universities/colleges. CAO: SB 405 would allow the State Board of Higher Education, at the request of a university, to establish a police department with the same standards and authority of a municipal police department, including entering into mutual aid agreements.	The UO currently has an office of public safety with officers that do not have the authority to place people under arrest nor carry firearms. This creates two issues: First, criminals that target the UO and are apprehended must be held until a sworn officer from Eugene can come and take control of the suspect. There is an enormous amount of duplication that results and the in-efficiency for both agencies is frustrating. Second, the anecdotal evidence suggests that criminals feel more comfortable both running from, and confronting public safety officers who under current law cannot carry a firearm. The experience in other parts of the nation is generally positive with regards to treating University public safety offices as police departments. These often present educational opportunities which benefit recruiting and overall community resources with regards to public safety experts. It should be noted that the Oregon Sheriff's Association has taken an oppose position on this bill.
2)	SB 559	CAO	Support	Sens Edwards, Bates, Beyer, Devlin, Kruse Reps Barmhart, Beyer, Harker, Holvey, Hoyle, Nathanson	SB 559 eliminates the UO as a state agency and separates it from the Board of Higher Education. It becomes instead a public university governed by a Board of Directors. As such it will not be subject to future laws specific to governmental entities, unless specifically called out by name. It will file an annual report with the Legislative Assembly in review of the previous year. The bill has a number of issue specific sections, for example creating authority to have an office of public safety and becoming a road authority, to provide just two examples.	This bill is sponsored by almost the entire Lane County delegation. Lane County has been asked by the University to review and hopefully endorse this measure. The intent of the bill is to redefine the UO such that it is not burdened by regulations that now affect it as an agency of the state of Oregon. The justification for this argument is that it receives deminimus funding from the state and thus should not be under the degree of control that the Legislature now enjoys. Whether or not the Legislature is willing to give up that oversight is at the heart of this question. The UO has employed several lobby firms to aside in the passage of this measure.

3)	SB	5510	CAO	Oppose, unless amended to contain an equal split for the charges to local government to reflect the responsibility of both parties that utilize this service.	At request of Budget and Management Division, OR Dept of Admin Services	SB 5510 is a budget bill for the Employee Relations Board. The Governor's proposal to at least partially fund the ERB (currently covered by General Fund) would be to shift those costs to local governments and special districts by establishing a per-agency charge. The proposed budget amount would add back one Administrative Law Judge and a part time mediator cut in this biennium.	The bill as written, and the underlying cost shift concept (which is not placed into statute) was not met with support from the General Government sub-committee of Ways and Means due mostly to testimony from the Special Districts Association (which has many members with few or no employees). A work group was formed to further discuss the issue. The concept of a per-employee fee was proposed, with the Association of Oregon Counties endorsing a 50-50 split between labor and employers. That proposal was in play at the work group but appears to now be dropped and this bill is at a stalemate.
4)	SJR	20	CAO	Support	Sens Edwards, Bates, Beyer, Devlin Repps Bamhart, Beyer, Harker, Holvey, Hoyle, Nathanson (at request of University of Oregon Foundation)	SJR 20 is a referral to the voters to amend the constitution. It would create a new section allowing Oregon to sell the full faith and credit of the state (with the exception of ad valorem taxes) to raise up to one billion dollars that would fund an endowment for the University of Oregon (or other public university). The section stipulates that the public university must privately match, at least on a one to one ratio, the public dollars.	If the voters approve this constitutional amendment the outcome the UO envisions would be a one point six billion dollar endowment fund that would spin off revenue for the UO. It is an important concept for the UO in that Oregon ranks 45th in per student funding and continues to receive less and less public funding. This has led to regular tuition increases and a concern that tuition will soon be out of reach for many Oregonians. If the endowment can grow at the 9% envisioned by the UO it would raise significant revenue. The assumption is that Oregon's budget would additionally benefit through alleviating pressure on the Legislature to fund the UO (although it is likely that the $63M now spent to support the UO would be allocated to bond payments in the short run).
5)	SJR	36	PW	Monitor	Committee on Rules (at request of Gov)	This bill would allow state policing of roads to be paid for with State Highway Funds.	The cost of this bill would significantly reduce the amount of revenue counties and cities receive from revenue sharing of the state highway fund. Estimates have been discussed that the revenue gained from HB 2001 (fuel, vehicle operation and ownership) would all be directed to the state highway patrol. This would decrease Lane County Public Works revenue $4-6 million per year.
