About Lane County

Historical and Geographic Information

Lane County was established in 1851 and is geographically situated on the west side of Oregon about midway down the state's coastline. It was named for Gen. Joseph Lane, a rugged frontier hero who was Oregon's first territorial governor. Pioneers traveling the Oregon Trail in the late 1840's came to Lane County mainly to farm. The county's first district court met under a large oak tree until a clerk's office could be built in 1852. A few years later, the first courthouse opened in what is now downtown Eugene. With the building of the railroad, the market for timber opened in the 1880's.

The county encompasses 4,722 square miles and, in many ways, typifies Oregon. The county's lands are geographically a microcosm of the state - ranging from rugged glaciated mountains in the east, through a broad valley spreading across the Willamette River mid-county, to a beautiful and rugged coastline along the western edge. It is one of two Oregon counties that extend from the Pacific Ocean to the Cascades.

Special points of interest include twenty historic covered bridges, Bohemia Mines, coastal sand dunes, Darlington Botanical Wayside, numerous reservoirs, Heceta Head Lighthouse, Hendricks Park Rhododendron Gardens, hot springs, Hull Center for the Performing Arts, Lane ESD Plantarium, McKenzie River, McKenzie Pass, Mt. Pisgah Arboretum, Old Town Florence, Pile-12 sports events, Prong Falls, sea lion coveys, vineyards and wineries, Waddo Lake, Washburne State Park tide pools, and Willamette Pass ski area and the University of Oregon.

Population

Lane County is larger than Delaware and Rhode Island combined and almost the size of Connecticut. Although 80 percent of the county is forestland, Lane County's population exceeds 333,715, which makes it the fourth most populous county and third most populous metropolitan statistical area (MSA) in Oregon.

The county has 12 incorporated cities which include Coburg, Cottage Grove, Creswell, Dunes City, Eugene, Florence, Junction City, Lowell, Olney, Springfield, Veneta, and Weed. Eugene, which is the county seat, is the largest city with a population of 156,189 and Weed is the smallest with a population of 293. While Oregon grew 12% in the past decade, Lane County was slower at 6%.

Lane County Government

Lane County government operates under a home rule charter approved by voters in 1962. The Charter grants authority to a full-time compensated, five-person Board of County Commissioners to legislate and administer County government within the limits of that partisan authority. Lane County voters individually elect commissioners for four-year terms from specific geographic regions. The County operates under the provisions of the County Charter and the Lane County Code, as well as the Oregon Constitution and State law (Oregon Revised Statutes). Board action is effected by a simple majority vote of three of the Board members. A general purpose government, the mission of Lane County is to provide high-quality local government services in a fair, open, and economical manner to best meet the needs and expectations of our citizens and guests.
