NATURE OF STORY: Lane County Sheriff's Office Opens Fifty Additional Local Jail Beds

DETAILS:

On February 3, 2018, the Lane County Sheriff's Office will be adding fifty jail beds for local defendants and offenders, increasing the number of local jail beds to 367 from 317. This is the fourth increase in capacity since the passage of the Public Safety levy to fund jail beds and youth detention and treatment services in Lane County.

Prior to the levy, the jail had 125 local jail beds, and contracted out several other beds to outside agencies. After the passage of the levy in 2013, the jail doubled local capacity to 256 beds, and then to 297 beds in September of 2015. In February 2016, enough additional staff had been hired and trained to increase the number of local jail beds again to 317, which is where the capacity remained until this most recent increase.

The number of capacity based releases (CBRs, or early releases) has reduced by 61.34% compared to CBRs prior to the levy, and the jail has not released any pre-trial inmates being held on Measure 11, violent felony charges, due to capacity (which was not the case prior to the levy).

In addition to the decrease in CBRs, the jail has strengthened its focus on treatment services for inmates suffering from severe and persistent mental illness, including Cognitive Behavioral Therapy treatment through a partnership with Sponsor's, Inc., a local reentry program. The jail also offers continuing education to help inmates get their GED, as well as socialization classes focusing on practicing appropriate behaviors, communication, and coping skills.

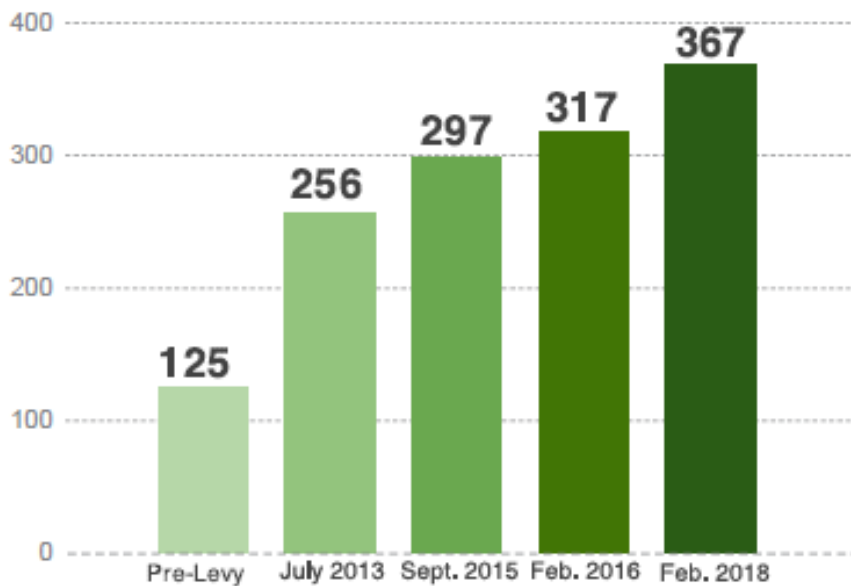

Three additional Mental Health Specialists have also joined the team at the Lane County Jail (through a collaboration with Lane County Behavioral Health) to work on discharge planning with inmates to help ensure a smooth, uninterrupted transition of services and treatment from the jail to the community. This new program is geared towards decreasing an inmate's risk of reoffending by addressing the factors that contributed to their initial offense. The Lane County Jail is thrilled to be able to offer these services to inmates both within the facility, and as part of multiple partnerships with reentry services out in the community.
