Parents, educators, community members and media are invited to an information night about social media, the internet, and youth safety.

Come for the inside scoop on how to protect your child, tween, or teen. Learn about the dangers of social media and technology, as well as the reality of its uses in today's world.

This is a free event with panelists including: REV (a youth-led leadership program), school resource officer, Lane County District Attorney's Office Juvenile Prosecutor, Bethel School District Representative, and Kid's First Center Forensic Interviewer.

The event is organized by the Eugene Coalition Against Sexual Exploitation of Youth (ECASEY) which includes Eugene School District 4J, Springfield Public Schools, Bethel School District, City of Eugene, Lane County District Attorney's Office, Kids First Center, Junior League of Eugene, Looking Glass, Womenspace, and local agency partners.
